Neighborhood

Description: Altos del María is a gated mountain community in the Sora highlands of Panamá Oeste, about 1.5 hours from Panama City. Set between 400 and 1,185 meters above sea level, it offers a cool, spring-like climate year-round. The area features lush landscapes, waterfalls, and panoramic views, along with amenities like hiking trails, tennis courts, and modern infrastructure. It attracts both locals and expats seeking a peaceful, nature-rich lifestyle with easy access to beaches and city conveniences.
